The defendants listed on Appendix A (“Defendants”), by their attorneys listed on Appendix H, respectfully submit this memorandum of law in support of Defendants’ motion, pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 4, 5, 8(a), 12(b)(5), and 12(b)(6), made applicable by Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure 7004, 7005, 7008, and 7012 (the “Consolidated Motion”), for an order dismissing with prejudice all of the remaining claims brought by Kenneth Kryes and Greig Mitchell (the “Liquidators”), in their capacities as foreign representatives and liquidators of Fairfield Sentry Limited (In Liquidation) (“Sentry”), Fairfield Sigma Limited (In Liquidation) (“Sigma”), and Fairfield Lambda Limited (In Liquidation) (“Lambda,” and together with Sentry and Sigma, the “Funds”), set forth in the operative amended complaints (“Amended Complaints” or “Am. Compl.”)¹ against Defendants² in the above-captioned actions (the “Actions”).³

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

After nearly a decade of litigation, all of the claims the Liquidators originally asserted in their British Virgin Islands (“BVI”) home forum in pursuit of the recovery of redemptions allegedly paid to Defendants have been dismissed or abandoned. The Court in its prior rulings similarly rejected all of the claims newly brought in this forum to obtain the same relief based on the alleged “bad faith” of the Funds’ chosen administrator. The Court also rejected the Liquidators’ arguments that (i) the Bankruptcy Code safe harbors would not apply to protect the challenged redemptions, even if the safe harbor requirements were otherwise met, because of the presumption against the extraterritorial application of U.S. law, and (ii) that the service and jurisdiction provisions in the Defendants’ original subscription agreements applied to these Actions. These rulings set the stage for this Consolidated Motion to dismiss the Liquidators’ three remaining claims on the grounds that they are all barred by the Bankruptcy Code’s safe harbors and/or because there has been no proper service on a Defendant, thereby bringing to an end this long-lasting litigation.

¹ As to the main issues discussed herein, the Amended Complaints are nearly identical. Thus, for citation purposes, Defendants refer to the Amended Complaint (“Third Amended Complaint” or “TAC”) in Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. HSBC Private Bank Suisse SA, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03633 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 9, 2020) (Dkt. 86).

² As noted in the Consolidated Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Plaintiffs’ Motion for Leave to Amend and in Support of Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss at 1 n.2, Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Theodoor GGC Amsterdam, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 13, 2017) (Dkt. 960) (“First Motion to Dismiss”), most, if not all, Amended Complaints include as defendants unidentified “Beneficial Owners of Accounts Held in the Name of [Named Defendant] 1-1000.” TAC ¶ 31. Defendants deem references to, and any claims pleaded against, these unidentified “Beneficial Owners” to be ineffective placeholder allegations for claims that do not require any further response at this juncture. Regardless, for all the reasons set forth in support of this Consolidated Motion, those claims also should be dismissed in their entirety.

Specifically, as to nearly all Defendants, the Liquidators seek to claw back certain redemption payments that the Funds made to Defendants by alleging that the transfers were (1) unfair preference transfers under Section 245 of the BVI Insolvency Act of 2003 and (2) undervalue transactions under Section 246 of the BVI Insolvency Act of 2003. As to only certain Defendants who are claimed to have known about the Bernard L. Madoff Securities LLC (“BLMIS”) fraud (the so-called “Knowledge Defendants”), the Liquidators have advanced a third theory for reversing the redemption transfers based on those Defendants’ alleged “knowing receipt” of stolen funds.⁴ All of the claims fail on one or more of two threshold grounds.⁵

First, the Liquidators’ claims are all barred by 11 U.S.C. § 546(e), the safe harbor for securities transactions made applicable in Chapter 15 proceedings by 11 U.S.C. § 561(d).

Section 546(e) protects settlement payments and transfers in connection with securities contracts (“Covered Transactions”) made “by,” “to,” or “for the benefit of” statutorily covered entities, such as financial participants or financial institutions (“Covered Entities”). See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. §§ 101(22), 101(22A) (defining financial institution and financial participant). This Court has held that each alleged redemption payment is a Covered Transaction and thus protected by the safe harbor if the transaction was by, to, or for the benefit of a Covered Entity.⁶ Each of the Funds and most Defendants fall within the definition of Covered Entity on one or more grounds.⁷ The safe harbor bars not only the BVI statutory avoidance claims, but also the Liquidators’ remaining common law knowing receipt claims against the so-called Knowledge Defendants. Allowing the Liquidators’ claims, including the knowing receipt claims, to escape the reach of Section 546(e)’s safe harbor would be contrary to the plain language of Section 546(e) and would frustrate the purpose of the safe harbor by permitting an end-run around its protections.

Second, the Liquidators’ claims against Defendants in foreign states that are contracting parties to the Hague Convention for the Service Abroad of Judicial and Extrajudicial Documents served by international registered mail (the “Hague Defendants” and the “Hague Service Convention,” respectively) must also be dismissed for failure to properly serve the Hague Defendants with process.⁸ The Liquidators’ attempted service by mail on the Hague Defendants is contrary to Supreme Court precedent and the Federal Rules. The Liquidators have never attempted any proper method of service as to the Hague Defendants over the past decade, despite receiving repeated notice of their ineffective service.

⁸ The Hague Defendants are listed in Appendix G. In some cases, in addition to attempted service by international mail in a foreign Hague Service Convention state, the Liquidators sent copies of summons and the complaints to outside litigation counsel representing Hague Defendants or “care of” a third-party, neither of which were authorized to accept service. Hague Defendants did not, and are not claimed to have, authorized service by these means. Such attempts at alternative service plainly do not qualify as effective service and we assume that the Liquidators will not claim otherwise.

Accordingly, this Court should dismiss the Amended Complaints in their entirety.

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

The background to these proceedings is set forth in two prior decisions of this Court. Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Theodoor GGC Amsterdam (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496 (SMB), 2018 WL 3756343 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 6, 2018) (the “Jurisdiction Opinion”); Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Theodoor GGC Amsterdam (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 596 B.R. 275 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (the “Merits Opinion”). Defendants recount the background to the extent necessary for this Consolidated Motion.

Operation of the Funds

Defendants are alleged direct and indirect investors in a related group of hedge funds—Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda—which is the largest group of funds that invested with BLMIS.⁹ Beginning in the 1990s and through BLMIS’s collapse in December 2008, Sentry sold shares directly to foreign (i.e., non-U.S.) investors and invested substantially all of the proceeds with BLMIS.¹⁰ Sigma, the Euro-denominated Fund, and Lambda, the Swiss franc-denominated Fund, each accepted investments in its respective foreign currency and then invested all of those funds in Sentry, which, in turn, invested with BLMIS.¹¹ The Liquidators, through these Actions, seek to claw back alleged redemptions from the Funds occurring as early as April 2004.¹²

The Funds were each governed by substantively identical Articles of Association (the “Articles”) that described the processes and pricing for the redemption of shares.¹³ The Articles granted investors the right to redeem their shares at a price equal to the Fund’s Net Asset Value (“NAV”).¹⁴ The directors of the Funds (the “Directors”) calculated the NAVs based on the value of a Fund divided by its outstanding shares, less certain expenses.¹⁵ The Directors determined the subscription price for a share in the Funds on the same basis.¹⁶ Following a redemption request, the Funds were contractually obligated to pay the redeeming shareholder an amount based on the NAV per share determined by the Directors in return for the redeemed shares.¹⁷ Defendants allegedly invested in the Funds on their own behalf or on behalf of underlying beneficial owners and subsequently redeemed shares and received redemption payments.¹⁸

The Funds each employed Citco Bank Nederland NV Dublin Branch (“Citco Bank”) to pay redemptions, take custody of securities and other assets, and provide other custodial services.¹⁹ The Funds each retained Citco Bank to act as custodian in monitoring assets, generating custody statements, placing trades, and “serv[ing] as the intermediaries for all . . . funds invested by Defendants.”²⁰ Citco Bank paid all redemptions.²¹ The Funds each also retained Citco Fund Services to serve as administrator “under the overall direction of the Directors.”²² The Directors delegated responsibility for calculating all of Funds’ NAVs to Citco Fund Services and its delegate, which issued NAV statements to shareholders.²³

First Motion for Leave and First Motion to Dismiss

The Liquidators originally litigated a “mistaken” payment theory, premised on the Funds’ alleged miscalculation of their Net Asset Value (“NAV”) and redemption payments made based on that NAV. The Liquidators lost on those claims at all levels of the BVI court system, including before its highest court, the U.K. Privy Council, because the Liquidators’ theory would have permitted the Funds to revisit the NAV into perpetuity and was therefore entirely unworkable and inequitable, and would have undermined the BVI’s interest in finality for securities transactions.²⁴ They also lost on their claim that the redeeming investors did not give good consideration for the redemptions.

On October 21, 2016, the Liquidators filed a motion for leave to add certain allegations and claims in amended complaints against most Defendants (“First Motion for Leave”).²⁵ The Liquidators sought to add: (1) claims under the BVI Insolvency Act for unfair preference transactions and undervalue transactions under Sections 245 and 246, respectively (together, the “BVI Avoidance Claims”), (2) BVI common law claims, and (3) BVI contract claims.²⁶ Defendants opposed the First Motion for Leave and moved to dismiss all existing claims on January 13, 2017 (the “First Motion to Dismiss”), arguing, among other things, that: (1) this Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the Actions; (2) this Court lacked personal jurisdiction over non-U.S. Defendants; (3) the safe harbor in 11 U.S.C. § 546(e), made applicable by 11 U.S.C. § 561(d), barred all claims; (4) all claims otherwise failed as a matter of law and should be dismissed; and (5) the Liquidators failed to properly serve non-U.S. Defendants.²⁷ After the completion of briefing, this Court requested supplemental briefing on Section 561(d).²⁸ The parties also wrote letters to this Court regarding the effect of Merit Management Group, LP v. FTI Consulting, Inc., 138 S. Ct. 883 (2018), on the First Motion to Dismiss.²⁹

The Jurisdiction Opinion

In August 2018, this Court issued the Jurisdiction Opinion, holding that it had subject matter jurisdiction over the Actions.³⁰ However, this Court squarely rejected the Liquidators' principal argument for personal jurisdiction, i.e., that Defendants had consented to personal jurisdiction by allegedly executing the Subscription Agreements containing a forum selection clause when they invested in the Funds.³¹ This Court held instead that the forum selection clause was inapplicable to the instant Actions, which arose out of the Articles rather than the Subscription Agreements.³²

²⁸ Defs.' Suppl. Mem. Concerning the Legislative History of 11 U.S.C. § 561(d) (Dkt. 1659); Foreign Reps.' Suppl. Mem. Addressing Bankruptcy Code Section 561(d) (Dkt. 1656).

²⁹ Merit held that the relevant transfer for purposes of Section 546(e) is the transfer the trustee seeks to avoid, and that the safe harbor will not apply based on the incidental presence of a Covered Entity in an earlier transfer. Merit also abrogated certain Circuit precedent relied upon in the First Motion to Dismiss. E.g., In re Quebecor World (USA) Inc., 719 F.3d 94 (2d Cir. 2013). Prior to Merit, the Liquidators had not contested that the redemption payments were made "by," "to," or "for the benefit" of a Covered Entity. Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 315.

In the Jurisdiction Opinion, this Court declined to address the merits issues raised by the parties because, although this Court had disposed of the Liquidators’ “consent” theory, there remained unresolved aspects of Defendants’ First Motion to Dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction.³³ Thereafter, in September 2018, the Liquidators and Defendants stipulated to be bound by a decision on the merits regarding any or all arguments raised in the briefing, while reserving their right to appeal or seek reconsideration of judicial orders and expressly preserving any arguments raised, including, but not limited to, the personal jurisdiction issues.³⁴

The Merits Opinion and Further Proceedings

In December 2018, this Court issued the Merits Opinion, resolving certain—but not all—of the remaining issues raised in the First Motion for Leave and First Motion to Dismiss. For failure to state a claim, this Court dismissed in their entirety the Liquidators’ BVI contract and common law claims, including for constructive trust, except to the extent the Liquidators adequately pleaded a knowing receipt constructive trust claim showing that a particular Defendant (i.e., a Knowledge Defendant) “knew the [Funds’] NAV was inflated at the time of redemption.”³⁵ This Court declined to resolve whether that standard was satisfied as to any Defendants under the operative complaints and deferred that issue for subsequent briefing.

In the Merits Opinion, this Court also partially granted the First Motion for Leave to add the BVI Avoidance Claims. However, this Court further held that the securities safe harbor of Section 546(e) would bar the BVI Avoidance Claims, and potentially all of the Liquidators’ claims, if a Defendant could demonstrate that the redemption payments were made by, to, or for the benefit of a Covered Entity within the meaning of the safe harbor provision.³⁶ This Court held that Section 561(d) made the safe harbor applicable to “proceedings brought by a foreign representative in a Chapter 15 case seeking to avoid purely foreign transfers under foreign insolvency laws,” explaining that the safe harbor’s purpose was to “provide broad protection to avoid the spread of financial contagion.”³⁷ In doing so, the Court accepted the unchallenged conclusion that “the redemptions at issue were Covered Transactions because they were settlement payments made in connection with securities contracts.”³⁸ The sole remaining issue under the safe harbor—whether Defendants could show that the transfers were made “by,” “to,” or “for the benefit of” a Covered Entity—was left for subsequent briefing, as the Liquidators first challenged that element of the analysis only following Merit. The Liquidators did not challenge the safe harbor’s application on these grounds because, as described below, not only do the Funds qualify as Covered Entities on multiple grounds, but almost all Defendants independently qualify as Covered Entities.

Accordingly, this Court allowed the Liquidators to file amended complaints alleging (i) BVI Avoidance Claims against all Defendants, albeit without prejudice to this further motion to dismiss the Amended Complaints, and (ii) knowing receipt claims only against the purported Knowledge Defendants.³⁹ Primarily in April 2019, this Court entered multiple orders implementing the Merits Opinion, dismissing all other claims with prejudice and explicitly reserving Defendants’ rights to address by further motions to dismiss various defenses that the Court did not reach in its Jurisdiction Opinion or Merits Opinion.⁴⁰ It was not until January 15, 2020 that the Liquidators notified Defendants that they had completed filing the Amended Complaints. That same day, the Liquidators filed yet another motion for leave to amend in twenty-nine actions. After a conference on that motion on February 25, 2020, the Court directed Defendants on this Consolidated Motion to address only certain arguments for dismissal based on Sections 546(e) and 561(d) and insufficient service of process in Hague Service Convention states.

LEGAL STANDARD

To survive a motion to dismiss, “a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” *Ashcroft v. ARGUMENT

I. Sections 561(d), 546(e), and 546(g) Bar All Claims Against All Defendants

The Liquidators' claims are barred in their entirety by Section 546(e), as incorporated into Chapter 15 proceedings by Section 561(d). This Court largely resolved the application of Section 546(e) in favor of Defendants in its Merits Opinion by (i) finding that each of the redemption payments are Covered Transactions because there was no "dispute that the redemptions at issue were Covered Transactions" and (ii) rejecting the Liquidators' arguments that applying the provision here would be an impermissible extraterritorial application. Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 311, 314. The only question with respect to the application of the safe harbor remaining after the Merits Opinion is whether the redemption payments at issue were made "by," "to," or "for the benefit of" an "entity covered by section 546(e)." Id. at 315.

Here, the relevant transfers are the redemption payments originating from the Funds. These redemption payments were transfers "by," "to," or "for the benefit" of a Covered Entity for at least four reasons. First, all claims must be dismissed because each Fund is a financial institution, due to the Funds' status as "customers" of a financial institution, and the transfers were therefore all made "by" a Covered Entity. Second, all claims for Sentry redemption payments and the majority of Sigma redemption payments must also be dismissed because, at the relevant points in time, Sentry and Sigma were financial participants and their transfers were therefore "by" a Covered Entity. Third, all claims for the Sigma and Lambda redemption payments must also be dismissed because they were made "for the benefit" of Sentry, which is both a financial participant and a financial institution. Fourth, many of the Defendants—such as banks and trust companies—are Covered Entities, and the Liquidators' claims are barred to the extent they were paid "to" or "for the benefit" of such Defendants. Finally, Sections 546(e) and 546(g) also bar the knowing receipt claims against the Knowledge Defendants because the safe harbor applies to those claims insofar as they involve protected transfers.

A. All of the Funds Are Financial Institutions and Therefore Clawback of Transfers Made “By” the Funds Is Barred

As customers of Citco Bank—a financial institution acting as their agent in connection with a securities contract—the Funds are Covered Entities. Section 546(e) protects not only transfers made “by” financial institutions, such as any “commercial or savings bank, industrial savings bank, savings and loan association, trust company, [or] federally-insured credit union,” 11 U.S.C. § 101(22), but also those made by “customer[s]” of such financial institutions, 11 U.S.C. § 101(22)(A); see In re Tribune Co. Fraudulent Conveyance Litig., 946 F.3d 66, 77-80 (2d Cir. 2019) (affirming dismissal of avoidance claims for redemption payment because the issuer retained a financial institution to act as agent in connection with the redemption and was thus itself a financial institution). Section 546(e) employs “broad language” to protect customers of financial institutions in order to “‘promot[e] finality . . . and certainty’ for investors, by limiting the circumstances, e.g., to cases of intentional fraud, under which securities transactions could be unwound.”⁴¹ In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 90-94 (quoting In re Kaiser Steel Corp., 952 F.2d 1230, 1240 n.10 (10th Cir. 1991)) (alteration in original); accord id. at 92 (“The legislative history of Section 546(e) clearly . . . reflects a concern over the use of avoidance powers not only after the bankruptcy of a commodities or securities firm, but also after a ‘customer’ or ‘other participant’ in the securities markets enters bankruptcy.”); Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 314 (noting same).

⁴¹ The Liquidators have not pursued intentional fraud claims. See infra note 54.

A customer of a financial institution is itself a financial institution for safe harbor purposes when (1) the financial institution (2) is “acting as agent” (3) “for a customer” (4) “in connection with a securities contract.” In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 78 (quoting 11 U.S.C. § 101(22)(A)). Here, the Funds’ relationships with their custodian, Citco Bank, satisfy each element for each Fund to qualify as a customer of a financial institution (i.e., a customer of Citco Bank). For that reason, the Funds themselves were Covered Entities when they made each redemption payment, and Section 546(e) bars avoidance of all of those payments.

First, the Funds made the redemption payments through their custodian Citco Bank, a financial institution. See Pls.’ Mem. Opp. to Defs.’ Consolidated Mem. and Further Supp. Mot. for Leave to Amend at 67 & n.89 (Dkt. 1336) (“Liquidators’ Reply”) (“The redemption payments were made from the Funds’ accounts with Citco in Ireland.”). The definition of financial institution includes entities licensed or regulated as a bank or trust company. See In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 78 (concluding entity is a financial institution “because it is a trust company and a bank”). Citco Bank is a “financial institution” because it is a bank supervised by De Nederlandsche Bank, the Netherlands’ central bank and financial regulator.⁴² The Irish branch of Citco Bank retained by the Funds is also supervised by the Central Bank of Ireland.⁴³ Citco Bank has been a licensed bank since 1998,⁴⁴ which predates each of the redemptions at issue in this litigation. See Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 292 (noting that earliest redemption payments at issue in the Actions are from April 2004).

Ex. C). The Central Bank of Ireland regulates Citco as a “credit institution,” which it

Second, in making the redemption payments on behalf of the Funds, Citco Bank was acting as the Funds' agent. "Agent" is not defined in the Bankruptcy Code; therefore, the well-settled common law meaning applies. In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 79. "At common law, '[a]gency is the fiduciary relationship that arises when one person (a "principal") manifests assent to another person (an "agent") that the agent shall act on the principal's behalf and subject to the principal's control, and the agent manifests assent or otherwise consents so to act.'" Id. (quoting Restatement (Third) of Agency § 1.01 (2006)) (alteration in original). The Amended Complaints plainly allege facts establishing the agency relationship: the Funds engaged Citco Bank as their custodian, TAC ¶ 51, and by virtue of that relationship, Citco Bank owed "duties to the Funds and the Funds' investors" and obligations including "serv[ing] as the intermediaries for all . . . funds invested by Defendants," id. ¶¶ 65, 74-75.

Third, the Funds were customers of Citco Bank. The Bankruptcy Code does not define "customer" as used in Section 101(22).⁴⁵ As with "agent," the term is thus interpreted in light of its ordinary meaning; the "core" ordinary meaning is "someone who buys goods or services." In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 79 (quoting UBS Fin. Servs., Inc. v. W. Va. Univ. Hosps., Inc., 660 F.3d 643, 650 (2d Cir. 2011)). The Funds are Citco Bank's customers, including because the defines to include entities "whose business is to receive deposits or other repayable funds from the public and to grant credits for its own account." Financial Service Provider Profile, supra note 43 (Kay Decl. Ex. B). For the avoidance of doubt, Black's Law Dictionary defines "bank" to include supervised financial establishments for the deposit, loan, exchange, or issuance of money and transmission of funds, and "commercial bank" to include entities authorized to receive deposits, make loans, and provide similar services, often to businesses. Bank, Black's Law Dictionary (11th ed. 2019).

⁴⁵ It does, however, instruct that "customer" should not be limited by the definition of a stockbroker's customers in Section 741 of the Bankruptcy Code. 11 U.S.C. § 101(22)(A). The Second Circuit has also declined to apply other "limited definition[s]" of "customer," including that in Section 761(9) of the Bankruptcy Code. In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 78 n.10.

Funds paid Citco Bank fees in exchange for providing custodial services. See TAC ¶¶ 69-70 (alleging that Citco Bank received one basis point of NAV as fee for custodial services).⁴⁶

Fourth, the redemption payments were made in connection with a securities contract.⁴⁷

The Liquidators have never argued otherwise. Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 314.

Accordingly, each redemption was made “by” a Covered Entity and this Court should dismiss each of the Liquidators’ claims under Section 546(e) as incorporated by Section 561(d).

B. Sentry and Sigma Are Financial Participants and Therefore Clawback of Transfers Made “By” Sentry or Sigma Are Barred

Section 546(e) also protects transfers made “by” financial participants, which are large market participants with substantial exposure to other participants through securities contracts, commodity contracts, swap agreements, repurchase agreements, or forward contracts (i.e., one or more qualified financial contracts, or “QFCs”). See 11 U.S.C § 101(22A); H.R. Rep. No. 106-711, pt. 2, at 55 (2000). Section 546(e) was amended to cover financial participants in the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005, Pub. L. No. 109-8, 119 Stat. 23 (2005) (“BAPCPA”). Congress extended the safe harbor to financial participants for the purpose of protecting the financial markets from the bankruptcy of substantial market participants; in particular, Congress cited the risks to the market posed by the near-failure of Long-Term Capital Management (“LTCM”), a large, foreign-organized hedge fund that was ⁴⁶ Anyone “for whom a bank has agreed to collect items” is also a customer. In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 79 (quoting Customer, Black’s Law Dictionary (10th ed. 2014)). Citco Bank also satisfies this definition as to the Funds given that Citco Bank, as custodian, held the Funds’ property.

bailed out by a consortium of banks in the late 1990s when it nearly collapsed. See H.R. Rep. No. 106-711, pt. 2, at 55 (2000) (“The near failure of [LTCM] . . . highlights the need for the U.S. to further refine its bankruptcy and insolvency laws in order to avoid systemic risk to the nation’s financial system in the event of a failure of a large bank, hedge fund, or securities firm . . .”). Congress was focused on the fact that customers and counterparties of hedge funds like LTCM were not necessarily covered by the anti-avoidance safe harbor prior to the adoption of BAPCPA, but the insolvency of such funds nonetheless poses material risks to the economy. See Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 312 (discussing recommendations to “prevent disruptions in the markets” and to address “the effect of a default on the [LTCM’s] counterparties” (citing President’s Working Group on Financial Markets, Hedge Funds, Leverage, and the Lessons of Long-Term Capital Management (Apr. 1999))); see also H.R. Rep. No. 109-31, pt. 1, at 131 (2005) (“This change will help prevent systemic impact upon the markets from a single failure.”). Accordingly, it is clear that Congress, in passing BAPCPA, intended to extend the protections of Section 546(e) to transfers by large off-shore hedge funds like the Funds.

The Bankruptcy Code defines a financial participant as any entity that has (i) more than $100 million in “gross mark-to-market positions” in one or more securities contracts or other QFCs, or (ii) more than a total gross dollar value of $1 billion in “notional or actual principal amount outstanding” in one or more securities contracts or other QFCs. 11 U.S.C. § 101(22A). The Bankruptcy Code further specifies that an entity may satisfy such thresholds either (i) “at the time it enters into a securities contract,” (ii) “on any day during the 15-month period preceding the date of the filing of the petition,” or (iii) on the date of the petition. Id. Sentry qualifies as a financial participant under this definition for at least two separate reasons: based on its securities contracts with BLMIS and based on its securities contracts with its own investors. Therefore, each redemption payment by Sentry is a transfer “by” a financial participant and therefore is protected by Section 546(e). Sigma also qualifies at least as to all of its transfers following December 2005 based on its securities contracts with its investors.

First, Sentry satisfies the Bankruptcy Code’s definition for financial participant because it meets the quantitative threshold for value in a securities contract on its petition date. In the Merits Opinion, this Court held that for purposes of Section 101(22A), the petition date is the date on which Sentry filed its petition for recognition as a “foreign main proceeding” under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code.⁴⁸ Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 315 n.58. Sentry filed its petition in this Court on June 14, 2010 (the “Petition Date”). Verified Chapter 15 Pet., In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 10-13164 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2010) (Dkt. 2).

On the Petition Date, the value of Sentry’s accounts with BLMIS exceeded both the $1 billion threshold for actual or notional principal outstanding and the $100 million mark-to-market threshold. See 11 U.S.C. § 101(22A)(A). Sentry had more than $1.1 billion in principal invested in BLMIS pursuant to the BLMIS account documents.⁴⁹ Settlement Agreement between the BLMIS Trustee and the Liquidators of Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda ¶ K, Picard v. Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC), Adv. Pro. No. 09-1239 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 9, 2011) (Dkt. 69-2) (“BLMIS Settlement”). Those account documents constitute securities contracts and therefore establish Sentry’s outstanding actual or notional principal for purposes of Section 101(22A). Picard v. Ida Fishman Revocable Trust (In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec.), 773 F.3d 411, 418-19 (2d Cir. 2014).⁵⁰ Regardless of Sentry's ability to recover on such outstanding amounts as a result of BLMIS's bankruptcy filing, Sentry was owed at least $1.1 billion and its customer claim in BLMIS's SIPA proceeding arose because of its customer accounts with BLMIS.⁵¹ See In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 654 F.3d 229, 233, 235 (2d Cir. 2011) (affirming use of net investment method, "crediting the amount of cash deposited by the customer into his or her BLMIS account, less any amounts withdrawn from it"); cf. Kruse v. Sec. Inv'r Prot. Corp. (In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC), 708 F.3d 422 (2d Cir. 2013) (finding existence of a securities account with BLMIS important to determining whether investor was a "customer" for purposes of SIPA).

⁴⁹ This number is Sentry’s “net equity” as calculated by the Trustee, which, in effect, reflects actual principal invested with BLMIS. See In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 654 F.3d 229, 233, 235 (2d Cir. 2011) (affirming calculation of net equity with reference to amounts deposited into a BLMIS account, less withdrawals).

In addition, Sentry qualifies as a financial participant because the mark-to-market value of Sentry's purported investments under account documents with BLMIS (i.e., value at which Sentry accounted for its securities transactions governed by the BLMIS account documents) exceeded $6 billion on the Petition Date.⁵² See BLMIS Settlement ¶ L & Ex. B (noting filed customer claims by Sentry). It is of no moment for safe harbor purposes that those investments were largely fictitious as a result of the BLMIS fraud. The Second Circuit has held it appropriate to credit BLMIS's falsified account statements for the limited purpose of ⁵⁰ The Second Circuit reasoned that the account documents originated and made possible the transfers at issue, including by governing the "broker-customer relationship," "authoriz[ing] BLMIS to trade in securities for the customer's account," and "specify[ing] the terms by which BLMIS . . . acquire[d] and dispose[d] of securities for the customer," and therefore were securities contracts, as defined in the Code. Ida Fishman, 773 F.3d at 418.

⁵² Sentry filed a customer claim for approximately $6 billion in June 2009, BLMIS Settlement ¶ L & Ex. B, which is within 15 months of the Petition Date and is in itself sufficient to qualify Sentry as a financial participant, see 11 U.S.C. § 101(22A). It does not appear that Sentry further amended its customer claim until it reached a settlement with the Trustee in 2011. Therefore, even as of the Petition Date, Sentry had claimed an entitlement to more than $6 billion under its securities contracts with BLMIS.

determining whether the safe harbor should apply, holding that payments from BLMIS were “settlement payments” or “‘in connection with’ a securities contract” for application of the safe harbor even though BLMIS did not actually trade securities. Ida Fishman, 773 F.3d at 418-19, 420, 422 (citation omitted). This conclusion protects the reasonable expectations of investors that their stockbroker was executing trades on their behalf.⁵³ See id. at 421. Likewise, crediting the accounted-for value of Sentry’s securities would protect the reasonable expectations of Sentry’s counterparties and advance Congress’s purpose in enacting BAPCPA to provide certainty and finality by extending protection to financial participants like Sentry.⁵⁴ This Court should accept the value of BLMIS’s purported trades for the limited purpose of determining whether the safe harbor applies, as that value demonstrates that the mark-to-market value of Sentry’s investments exceeded the $100 million threshold required under Section 101(22A) as of the Petition Date.⁵⁵

Second, Sentry, and to a large degree Sigma, satisfied the quantitative thresholds in Section 101(22A) when they entered into securities contracts with each Defendant at the time of the notice of redemption. This Court already held that “[a] contract arose at the time that the Defendants served their notices of redemption” that “entitled [Defendants] to be paid the NAV per share computed in accordance with Article 11(1) in exchange for their shares.” Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 297. In each transaction, the Articles operate as a master agreement that provides both the right to redeem and the terms for each redemption requested through the notice. See 11 U.S.C. § 741(7)(A)(x) (defining “securities contract” to include “master agreement[s]” that provide for purchase or sale of securities or related “security agreement[s]”).

Each of the redemptions at issue was allegedly paid between April 2004 and November 2008. Based on materials properly considered with this Consolidated Motion, Sentry’s NAV exceeded $100 million mark-to-market value at all times throughout that period and Sigma’s exceeded $100 million at least beginning December 31, 2005 and likely earlier. The NAV is an appropriate measure of the value of two separate, relevant securities contracts: (1) Sentry and Sigma’s shareholders’ aggregate redemption rights at any given time under the Articles, and (2) the market value of Sentry’s investments with BLMIS pursuant to its account documents with BLMIS.⁵⁶ As set out in the Liquidators’ pleadings, one of Sentry’s private placement memoranda, see Decl. of Joseph M. Kay, dated March 16, 2020 (“Kay Decl.”), Ex. D,⁵⁷ and Sentry’s directors’ reports and financial statements, see Kay Decl. Exs. E-H,⁵⁸ Sentry reported a ⁵⁶ The stated NAV is also a proxy for the value of the account documents with BLMIS at the time of subscription because Sentry “invested virtually all of [its] assets with BLMIS directly or indirectly, and the value of their assets derived from the value of their BLMIS investments.” Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 282-83. The Second Circuit has held that the account documents are securities contracts. Ida Fishman, 773 F.3d at 418-19.

⁵⁷ This Court can consider the Funds’ private placement memoranda in connection with this motion to dismiss because they are “integral to” the Amended Complaints. See Cortec Indus., 949 F.2d at 47-48 (holding that “documents plaintiffs had either in [their] possession or had knowledge of and upon which they relied in bringing suit” were integral to the complaint on a Rule 12(b)(6) motion). Omitting specific reference to the private placement memoranda, see, e.g., TAC ¶ 37 (alleging that investments in the Funds were governed by the Funds’ “offering materials and/or other relevant documents”), “does not make them any less integral,” Yak v. Bank Brussels Lambert, 252 F.3d 127, 131 (2d Cir. 2001). The Liquidators also previously urged this Court to consider the Funds’ private placement memoranda in briefing the First Motion to Dismiss. See Liquidators’ Reply at 68 n.92.

⁵⁸ This Court can consider Sentry’s directors’ reports and financial statements, as the Liquidators relied upon them in support of their petitions for Chapter 15 recognition. See, e.g., Krys Decl. ¶ 13, In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 10-13164 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2010) (Dkt. 3) (incorporating “reports of the directors of [Sentry] and financial statements of [Sentry]” in support of Chapter 15 petition). These proceedings form the basis for the NAV exceeding $100 million from July 1993 through October 2008, corresponding principally to the market value of Sentry's investments under its securities contracts with BLMIS.⁵⁹

Sentry's private placement memoranda from October 2004 reflects that Sentry's NAV first exceeded $100 million in July 1993 and continued to increase thereafter. See Kay Decl. Ex. D at 22-25 (reporting monthly NAV through December 2003). At the end of 2003, Sentry's NAV exceeded $4.1 billion. Id. at 25. Sentry's directors' reports and financial statements reflect that Sentry's NAV steadily increased over the following years from about $5.1 billion in FY 2004 to over $7.2 billion in June 2008. Kay Decl. Ex. E at 7 (reporting NAV of approximately $5.1 billion for FY 2004); Kay Decl. Ex. F at 7 (reporting NAV of approximately $5 billion for FY 2005); Kay Decl. Ex. G at 7 (reporting NAV of approximately $5.6 billion for FY 2006 and approximately $7.1 billion for FY 2007); Kay Decl. Ex. H at 6 (reporting NAV of approximately $7.3 billion as of June 30, 2008). The Liquidators pleaded that on October 31, 2008, Sentry's NAV exceeded $6 billion. TAC ¶ 2.

Sigma's NAV was approximately 327.6 million euro on December 31, 2005; 475 million euro on December 31, 2006, and 742.7 million euro on December 31, 2007. See Kay Decl. Ex. I at 7. Plaintiffs pleaded that Sigma's NAV exceeded 723 million euro on October 31, 2008. Verified Chapter 15 Pet. ¶ 9, In re Fairfield Sigma Ltd., No. 10-13167 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2010) (Dkt. 2).

Finally, the Court should not adopt the reasoning of In re Tribune Co. Fraudulent Conveyance Litig., No. 11MD2296 (DLC), 2019 WL 1771786, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 23, 2019), instant adversary proceedings; such materials are therefore properly before the Court at this time. See Cortec Indus., 949 F.2d at 47-48.

⁵⁹ If the Court instead considered the date of subscription as the time that Defendants entered into the Articles, Sentry would still qualify as a financial participant. None of the Complaints contain allegations that Defendants entered into Subscription Agreements prior to July 1993, when Sentry's NAV exceeded $100 million.

which suggested in dicta that debtors could never be financial participants. It is consistent with a plain reading of the statute and Congressional intent that Sentry and Sigma are financial participants. First, the text of Section 101(22A) does not exclude a debtor from the type of “entity” that can be a financial participant. See Luria v. Hicks (In re Taylor, Bean & Whitaker Mortgage Corp.), No. 3:11-ap-0674-JAF, 2017 WL 4736682, at *6 (M.D. Fla. Mar. 14, 2017) (“[N]o express language in § 101(22A)(A) indicat[es] the definition includes only entities other than the debtor.”). Second, reading in an exclusion would make it impossible to have transfers “by” a financial participant, even though Section 546(e) expressly contemplates protection for such transfers. The canon against superfluity prohibits that result. See Corley v. United States, 556 U.S. 303, 314 (2009). Third, reading the statute such that a debtor could never be a financial participant runs counter to Congress’s purpose in creating protections against the insolvency of large off-shore hedge funds. See supra Section I.A. Fourth, it is further inconsistent with precedent that has routinely applied the safe harbor to shield transfers made “by” debtors that are Covered Entities. See Ida Fishman, 773 F.3d at 417 (holding that BLMIS is a stockbroker and that trustee cannot pursue certain transfers made by BLMIS).

Accordingly, Sentry is a financial participant because (1) the value of Sentry’s accounts with BLMIS as of the Petition Date exceeded the $1 billion actual or notional principal outstanding threshold and the $100 million mark-to-market threshold and (2) Sentry’s NAV exceeded the $100 million mark-to-market threshold at all relevant times and across all counterparties pursuant to the securities contract that arose under the Articles at the time of redemption. Sigma also independently qualifies as a financial participant since at least December 31, 2005 because of the securities contracts arising under its Articles at the time of redemption. For those reasons, claims for transfers by Sentry and the majority of transfers from Sigma should be dismissed.

C. Every Redemption Payment From Sigma and Lambda Was “for the Benefit of” a Covered Entity and Therefore Clawback of Transfers Made By Sigma and Lambda Is Barred

Section 546(e) bars the Liquidators’ recovery of the Sigma and Lambda redemption payments for the additional reason that each payment was “for the benefit of” Sentry, 11 U.S.C. § 546(e), which is both a financial institution and a financial participant for the reasons explained in Sections I.A-I.B, supra. A transfer is “for the benefit of” another entity when there is “some intent-to-benefit” that entity. Picard v. ABN Amro Bank (Ireland) Ltd. (In re Madoff Securities), 505 B.R. 135, 149-50 (S.D.N.Y. 2013). Transfers that directly benefit a Covered Entity are “for the benefit of” such entity. See id. (holding that transfers helping Covered Entities maintain perfect hedges on related swap transactions were “for the benefit of” such entities).

Sigma and Lambda were created and operated to benefit Sentry by expanding its investor base to foreign investors. See Verified Chapter 15 Pet. ¶ 9, In re Fairfield Sigma Ltd., No. 10-13167 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2010) (Dkt. 2) (“Sigma was a feeder fund to Sentry . . . established for foreign currency (Euro) investments in BLMIS (indirectly through Sentry) by non-U.S. persons.”); Verified Chapter 15 Pet. ¶ 9, In re Fairfield Lambda Ltd., No. 10-13168 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2010) (Dkt. 2) (same for Lambda and Swiss francs). The Funds accomplished this by offering shares in foreign currency for investors that wanted to invest in Sentry without holding U.S. dollar-denominated assets (and accompanying currency risk). See, e.g., TAC ¶ 2 (alleging that “Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency investments . . . through purchases of shares of Sentry”). Every new investment in Sigma or Lambda was “for the benefit” of Sentry because it put more assets at Sentry’s disposal and furthered the Funds’ shared investment objective of “achiev[ing] capital appreciation of assets through investments in BLMIS . . . through Sentry.” Id. The redemptions at issue here are simply the other side of that coin—a necessary step in furtherance of Sigma and Lambda’s purpose to ensure the continued flow of money into Sentry. Investors would not have placed money with Sentry, through Sigma and Lambda, unless there was a mechanism to redeem their investments. Accordingly, each redemption payment plainly manifests the requisite intent to benefit Sentry, which is itself a Covered Entity.

D. The Majority of Redemption Payments and Subsequent Transfers Therefrom Were Paid “To” or “for the Benefit” of Individual Defendants That Are Covered Entities and Therefore Clawback of Those Transfers Is Barred

In addition to the redemption payments “by” or “for the benefit of” a Fund that is a Covered Entity that qualify for protection under Section 546(e), the majority of redemption payments were also made “to” or “for the benefit of” a Defendant that also qualifies as a Covered Entity. 11 U.S.C. §§ 546(e), 546(g). Appendix E lists Defendants that, on the basis of judicially noticeable proof, qualify as commercial banks or trust companies within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. § 101(22) or stockbrokers within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. § 101(53A) pursuant to judicially noticeable proof. Appendix F lists Defendants that, on the same basis, qualify as financial participants within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. § 101(22A). All claims for transfers “to” or “for the benefit of” these Defendants are barred.⁶⁰

As noted in Section I.A, supra, “commercial bank” and “trust company” are statutorily undefined terms afforded their ordinary meaning and interpreted broadly. See In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 78 (concluding that entity qualifies as safe-harbored financial institution “because it is . . .

⁶⁰ While legal arguments in support of this individual basis for the safe harbor’s application are set forth herein, including specific examples of the various ways the safe harbor applies in these Actions when the Defendant is itself a Covered Entity, Defendants relying on these arguments will separately provide the Court with judicially noticeable proof. Defendants will endeavor to do so through a common offer of proof, where possible. Appendices E and F provide the means, should the Court choose, to identify and resolve representative cases.

a bank”). Stockbroker has also been interpreted in light of its ordinary meaning. See, e.g., Am. Home Mortg. Inv. Corp. v. Lehman Bros. Inc. (In re Am. Home Mortg. Holdings, Inc.), 388 B.R. 69, 86-87 (Bankr. D. Del. 2008) (relying on regulatory filings to determine on a motion to dismiss that an entity was “in the business of effecting securities transactions” and therefore a stockbroker for purposes of the safe harbor); Sec. Inv’r Prot. Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 476 B.R. 715, 719 & n.5 (S.D.N.Y. 2012), supplemented (May 15, 2012), aff’d sub nom. Picard v. Ida Fishman Revocable Trust, 773 F.3d 411 (holding stockbroker was covered so long as it had any customer in any of its business divisions). Defendants qualify for the safe harbor defense by satisfying these definitions as follows.

First, to the extent that a Defendant alleged to be the initial recipient of a transfer is a Covered Entity, the safe harbor protects the redemption payment to that recipient and all downstream transfers from that recipient. See Sec. Inv’r Prot. Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 501 B.R. 26, 30, 35 (S.D.N.Y. 2013) (permitting subsequent transferee to raise safe harbor defense if applicable to allegedly avoidable initial transfer). For example, in the representative Third Amended Complaint, Plaintiffs allege that Sentry and Sigma paid redemptions to defendant HSBC Private Bank Suisse SA (“PBRs”), which may have been subsequently transferred to beneficial owner Defendants. TAC ¶¶ 42, 132, 143. Because PBRs was a bank at the time of the redemptions, see Decl. of Thomas J. Moloney ¶¶ 16-19 & Exs. 15-18, dated March 16, 2020 (“Moloney Decl.”), the safe harbor protects both the redemption payments from the Funds “to” PBRs and subsequent transfers of those payments from PBRs to the beneficial shareholder Defendants. Claims against PBRs and against its beneficial shareholders should be dismissed.

Second, the safe harbor applies to any Defendant alleged to be the recipient of transfers made “for the benefit” of a Covered Entity and all subsequent transferees. The term “for the benefit” is interpreted broadly and literally. Picard v. Katz, 462 B.R. 447, 452 n.3 (S.D.N.Y. 2011), abrogated on other grounds by Sec. Inv. Prot. Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 513 B.R. 437 (S.D.N.Y. 2014). Namely, either the initial transferee or the debtor has some “intent to benefit” a Covered Entity. ABN AMRO, 505 B.R. at 149. As an example, the Liquidators allege that Defendant Somers Nominees (Far East) Limited (“Somers”) retained redemption payments for its own account and benefit or, alternatively, paid all or some portion of such payments to or for the account of persons or entities, including but not limited to HSBC Bank Bermuda Limited f/k/a The Bank of Bermuda Limited, for whom Somers may have subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian (individually, a “Beneficial Shareholder”[)].

Second Am. Compl. ¶ 14, Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Somers Nominees (Far East) Ltd., Adv. Pro. No. 12-1556 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 10, 2020) (Dkt. 46). HSBC Bank Bermuda Limited (“HBBM”) was a licensed bank in Bermuda at the time of all redemptions allegedly paid to Somers for HBBM’s benefit, see Moloney Decl. ¶¶ 32-33 & Exs. 31-32; therefore, all claims for transfers allegedly sent to Somers for the benefit of HBBM, a Covered Entity, should be dismissed. Other Defendants are entitled to dismissal under the same framework because their corporate purposes were to hold securities for the benefit of Covered Entities.

As an additional example, Defendants should also be dismissed when transfers were allegedly made “for the benefit” of a Covered Entity, such as when a transfer was made to a “customer” of a financial institution.⁶¹ See In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 77-78. In the ABN

⁶¹ Appendices E and F do not list Defendants who qualify as covered financial institutions solely on the basis

Complaints,⁶² the Liquidators alleged that each Defendant (together, the “ABN Defendants”) was a Beneficial Owner of investments placed by “Citco Record Subscriber” entities through Brokerage and Custody Agreements (“B&C Agreements”). ABN I Compl. ¶ 9. Each of the ABN Defendants entered into B&C Agreements with Citco Bank “to enable that customer to invest in the Funds.”⁶³ See Liquidators’ Reply at 54 n.66. The ABN Defendants each qualify as a financial institution because they are “customers” of a financial institution under Tribune: (1) Citco Bank is a bank, supra Section I.A; (2) Citco Bank, with which the ABN Defendants entered into B&C Agreements, was “agent[] of the [ABN] Defendants in connection therewith,” ABN I Compl. ¶ 103; (3) ABN Defendants paid “fees” to Citco Bank “in ‘consideration of the services’” it provided, id. ¶¶ 105, 108, and the Liquidators have conceded that ABN Defendants were Citco Bank’s customers, see Liquidators’ Reply at 54 n.66; and (4) the relationship was in connection with a securities contract, supra Section I.A. Moreover, all claims for transfers to Defendants should be dismissed to the extent that they were for the benefit of “customers” of a financial institution listed in Appendix E. In those circumstances, the Tribune analysis remains largely the same as that covering the ABN Defendants. Here, the Liquidators allege in each complaint that Beneficial Owners invested in the Funds through certain Defendants and that those Defendants were the “agent[s]” of the Beneficial Owners, TAC ¶ 14; and Defendants “subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee[,] or custodian” on behalf of Beneficial Owners, id., which is an axiomatic “customer” that they are “customers” of a financial institution.

⁶² See Fourth Am. Compl., Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. ABN Amro Schweiz AG, Adv. Pro. No. 10-3635 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 9, 2020) (Dkt. 466) (“ABN I Compl.”); Fourth Am. Compl., Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. ABN Amro Schweiz AG, Adv. Pro. No. 10-3636 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 9, 2020) (Dkt. 517) (“ABN II Compl.” and, together with the ABN I Complaint, the “ABN Complaints”). Citation will be made to the ABN I Complaint on a representative basis for both ABN Complaints unless otherwise noted.

relationship, see In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 79-80. Accordingly, to the extent that a Defendant was a financial institution, each Beneficial Owner to whom that Defendant may have paid redemptions should be dismissed as their “customer” and a financial institution themselves.

Third, like Section 546(e), Section 546(g) bars the Liquidators’ claims against all transfers by, to, or for the benefit of “a swap participant or financial participant, under or in connection with any swap agreement and that is made before the commencement of the case.” 11 U.S.C. § 546(g). The district court applied this provision in dismissing claims against Defendants Citigroup Global Markets Limited and ABN AMRO Bank N.V. in connection with the same payments the Liquidators seek to recover here. See ABN AMRO, 505 B.R. at 137, 148-49 (“[T]he relevant transfers [from Sentry] occurred ‘in connection with’ a swap agreement and were made ‘for the benefit of’ a ‘financial participant.’” (quoting 11 U.S.C. § 546(g))).

In support of Appendices E and F, individual Defendants or groups of Defendants will submit affidavits or declarations offering judicially noticeable proof demonstrating those entities’ Covered Entity status within these principles based on public records. See, e.g., Moloney Decl. The Court should take judicial notice of these facts because they are “not subject to reasonable dispute” because they “can be accurately and readily determined from sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned,” such as bank regulators and government agencies. Fed. R. Evid. 201(b)(2); see, e.g., Enron II, 341 B.R. at 458 (noting that “the records of various public or quasi-public bodies establish[ed] that [entities]” were Covered Entities). Judicially noticeable regulatory or licensing documents routinely support determinations that an entity is a covered entity within the meaning of Section 546(e). See, e.g., In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 78 (relying on regulatory documents to conclude that entity is financial institution under safe harbor); Enron II, 341 B.R. at 458 (judicially noticing records of financial regulatory and self-regulatory organizations in holding that entities covered by safe harbor); see also Sec. Inv'r Prot. Corp., 476 B.R. at 719 (noting debtor “was registered as a stockbroker with the SEC” in concluding that it was covered by safe harbor). Moreover, courts may take judicial notice of the public documents of foreign regulators and agencies, see, e.g., Enron Corp. v. Bear, Stearns Int'l Ltd. (In re Enron Corp.), 323 B.R. 857, 869-70 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2005) (judicially noticing entity’s registration with the United Kingdom Financial Services Authority to conclude entity was covered by safe harbor), and of an entity’s Articles of Association, see, e.g., Mosley v. Wells Fargo Bank NA, No. 17-CV-05064-JSC, 2017 WL 5478628, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 15, 2017) (citing Fed. R. Evid. 201(b) standard).

Accordingly, all claims premised on transfers “to” or “for the benefit of” a Covered Entity—which entities are listed in Appendices E and F—should be dismissed.

E. Sections 546(e) and 546(g) Bar the Knowing Receipt Claims Against Knowledge Defendants

In addition to the BVI Avoidance Claims asserted against all Defendants, the Liquidators seek to recover redemption payments from a large number of the same redeemers—the Knowledge Defendants—under a knowing receipt theory. Sections 546(e) and 546(g) bar those claims, just as they would bar those claims if brought in a U.S. plenary bankruptcy proceeding. See 11 U.S.C. § 561(d) (limiting avoidance powers “to the same extent” as in a Chapter 7 or 11 proceeding); see also Merits Opinion, 596 B.R. at 308 (quoting Section 561(d) for same limit).

In a U.S. plenary proceeding, Section 546(e) has been held to preclude not only constructive fraudulent conveyance and preference claims under the Bankruptcy Code, but also common law restitution and other non-bankruptcy claims when they seek to undo transactions protected by the safe harbor. See, e.g., In re Tribune, 946 F.3d at 90 (holding Section 546(e) bars non-bankruptcy fraudulent transfer claims because “[u]nwinding settled securities transactions by claims such as appellants’ would seriously undermine” the securities markets that the safe harbor was designed to protect); Contemporary Indus. Corp. v. Frost, 564 F.3d 981, 988 (8th Cir. 2009) (holding common law unjust enrichment and other claims barred because they sought “to recover the same payments . . . [that] are unavoidable under § 546(e)”), abrogated on other grounds by Merit Mgmt., 138 S. Ct. 883; U.S. Bank N.A. v. Verizon Commc’ns Inc., 892 F. Supp. 2d 805, 824-25 (N.D. Tex. 2012) (prohibiting recovery of cash payments under a state unlawful dividend statute when Section 546(e) barred recovery on constructive fraudulent transfer claims on the cash payments that were “in many ways similar”); Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors of Hechinger Inv. Co. v. Fleet Retail Fin. Grp. (In re Hechinger Inc. Co.), 274 B.R. 71, 96 (D. Del. 2002) (applying safe harbors to claims that “seek[] the same remedy . . . [as a] fraudulent transfer claim—to avoid the transactions and recover payments”); AP Servs., LLP v. Silva, 483 B.R. 63, 71 (S.D.N.Y. 2012) (same). Section 546(g) is interpreted analogously in all material respects. ABN AMRO, 505 B.R. at 142-43.

Moreover, common law restitution claims premised on the knowing, wrongful receipt of proceeds “effectively act[] as a section 544 fraudulent conveyance claim;” therefore, Section 546(e) bars the use of such a claim to recover settlement or other payments in connection with a securities contract. In re Hechinger, 274 B.R. at 94, 96 (barring claim premised on “wrongful receipt of proceeds” with knowledge because it “effectively acts as an avoidance claim against the shareholders in a transaction that the court has already found is an unavoidable settlement payment”); cf. In re Petters Co., 548 B.R. 551, 569 (Bankr. D. Minn. 2016) (holding unjust enrichment claim based on knowing receipt duplicative of a dismissed state law fraudulent conveyance claim).

Section 546(e) prevents the Liquidators from asserting knowing receipt claims that, as here, seek the same relief as avoidance claims barred for the reasons in Section I, supra. See In re Hechinger, 274 B.R. at 96. Both the avoidance and knowing receipt claims seek to recover transfers based on allegedly inflated redemption payments. Compare TAC ¶¶ 104-111 (premising knowing receipt claims on defined “Redemption Payments”), with id. ¶¶ 112-144 (same, for avoidance claims). The knowing receipt claims also seek the return of the redemption payments paid in Covered Transactions, like the avoidance claims. Compare TAC, Prayer for Relief ¶ A (seeking imposition of constructive trust in the amount of the redemption payments), with id. ¶¶ B-C (seeking judgment in the amount of the redemption payments). As a result, allowing the knowing receipt claims to proceed would permit circumvention of the safe harbor and conflict with its purpose of protecting settled securities transactions by permitting the protected transactions to be unwound under a different theory.

It is irrelevant that the Liquidators’ claims for knowing receipt sound in unjust enrichment, rather than U.S. or BVI bankruptcy law. TAC ¶ 108. The Liquidators may not use artful pleading to pursue barred avoidance claims under the cloak of another claim. See, e.g., Contemporary Indus. Corp., 564 F.3d at 988 (barring duplicative unjust enrichment claim). That the unjust enrichment claims reach back even further than the barred avoidance claims only magnifies the risk of letting those claims move forward and run roughshod over the statutory safe harbors. See In re Hechinger, 274 B.R. at 96 (holding that recovery on non-bankruptcy claims “would implicate the same concerns regarding the unraveling of settled securities transactions . . . , which is precisely the result that section 546(e) precludes”). Thus, this Court should dismiss all claims as barred by Section 546(e).

II. The Liquidators Have Not Properly Served the Hague Defendants

The Liquidators' claims against the Hague Defendants must also be dismissed for insufficient service of process. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(5). Unless the plaintiff establishes "a basis for the defendant's amenability to service of summons," a federal court may not "exercise personal jurisdiction over a defendant" and the action must be dismissed. Omni Capital Int'l, Ltd. v. Rudolf Wolff & Co., 484 U.S. 97, 104 (1987). "Absent consent, this means there must be authorization for service of summons on the defendant."⁶⁴ Id. Moreover, an applicable statute or rule must supply the required authorization, because federal courts cannot "create a common-law rule authorizing service of process." Id. at 107-08, 111 (affirming dismissal where no applicable statute or rule authorized service); see also Dynegy Midstream Servs., LP v. Trammochem, 451 F.3d 89, 94-96 (2d Cir. 2006) (holding error to exercise personal jurisdiction where relevant statute did not authorize service). To proceed, the Liquidators must carry their burden of proving proper and adequate service. See Dickerson v. Napolitano, 604 F.3d 732, 752-53 (2d Cir. 2010); Zherka v. Ryan, 52 F. Supp. 3d 571, 576 (S.D.N.Y. 2014). They cannot do so.

The Liquidators have purported to serve most if not all of the Hague Defendants by international mail.⁶⁵ In Water Splash, Inc. v. Menon, 137 S. Ct. 1504 (2017), the Supreme Court held that the Hague Service Convention does not itself authorize postal service—and that where the Convention applies, service is permissible only if (1) the receiving country has not objected to service by mail and (2) “service by mail is authorized under otherwise-applicable law.” Id. at 1513. As to Hague Defendants purportedly served in Switzerland, South Korea, Kuwait, and Monaco, the Liquidators’ attempted postal service is ineffective because the “receiving state[s],” in adopting the Hague Service Convention, expressly “objected to service by mail.” Id. As to all Hague Defendants, the Liquidators’ attempted service is ineffective because “otherwise-applicable law,” id.—in this case, Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)—does not authorize service outside the United States by direct mail. The Liquidators have never even attempted proper service on the Hague Defendants in the decade since commencing these Actions, although they have long been on notice of the deficiency of postal service. Accordingly, their claims should now be dismissed.

A. The Liquidators Were Required but Failed to Serve Hague Defendants in Compliance with the Hague Service Convention

Service upon a foreign corporation may be made “in any manner prescribed by Rule 4(f) for serving an individual, except personal delivery.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(h)(2). Rule 4(f)(1) authorizes service “by any internationally agreed upon means . . . such as those authorized by the Hague [Service] Convention.” Where it applies, “compliance with the [Hague Service] Convention is mandatory.” Volkswagenwerk AG v. Schlunk, 486 U.S. 694, 705 (1988); accord Morgenthau v. Avion Res. Ltd., 11 N.Y.3d 383, 390 (2008). Article 10(a) of the Hague Service Convention states that, “[p]rovided the State of destination does not object, the present Convention shall not interfere with . . . the freedom to send judicial documents, by postal channels, directly to persons abroad.” Convention on the Service Abroad of Judicial and Extrajudicial Documents in Civil or Commercial Matters art. 10, Nov. 15, 1965, 20 U.S.T. 361, 658 U.N.T.S. 163. As the Supreme Court has explained, “this does not mean that the Convention affirmatively authorizes service by mail.” Water Splash, 137 S. Ct. at 1513 (emphasis in original). Rather, as noted above, “in cases governed by the Hague Service

Convention, service by mail is permissible if two conditions are met: first, the receiving state has not objected to service by mail; and second, service by mail is authorized under otherwise-applicable law.” Id. The first condition is not satisfied as to a total of approximately 90 Hague Defendants in four countries, and the second is not satisfied as to any Hague Defendant.⁶⁶

B. The Liquidators’ Attempts to Serve Hague Defendants in Objecting States Fail

Because Switzerland, South Korea, Kuwait, and Monaco have objected to postal service, the Liquidators cannot satisfy the first Water Splash requirement as to any Hague Defendant served by mail in those jurisdictions. Purported postal service on those Defendants is a nullity.

In adopting the Hague Service Convention in 1994, Switzerland—as authorized by Article 21(2)(a) of that treaty—stated its express and unqualified objection to postal service: “Switzerland declares that it is opposed to the use in its territory of the methods of transmission provided for in Articles 8 and 10.”⁶⁷ Hague Conference on Private International Law, Declaration/Reservation/Notification, <https://www.hcch.net/en/instruments/conventions/status-table/notifications/?csid=424&disp=resdn> (last visited March 15, 2020) (“Swiss Declaration”); Decl. of Prof. Nicolas Jeandin ¶¶ 8, 13, dated March 16, 2020 (“Jeandin Decl.”). South Korea, Kuwait, and Monaco made nearly identical declarations in 2000, 2002, and 2007, respectively.⁶⁸

Such objections are accepted as binding by that treaty's signatories. Jeandin Decl. ¶ 13. For example, the Swiss Federal Supreme Court has held that direct postal service of a foreign summons on a defendant in Switzerland constitutes an irreparable breach of Switzerland's reservation to Article 10(a). See id. ¶ 15. The United States Department of State has therefore cautioned that litigants "should refrain" from service by mail where the receiving foreign state has objected to such service, precisely because such "formal objections to service . . . are honored as a treaty obligation."⁶⁹ The Liquidators, however, have proceeded in disregard of these objections and the State Department's warning.

Because treaty obligations have the same constitutional status as federal statutes, see U.S. Const. art. VI, cl. 2; Cheung v. United States, 213 F.3d 82, 94 (2d Cir. 2000), objections to service have binding authority. For example, in Picard v. Cohmad (In re Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC), Judge Lifland held that because of Switzerland's objection to Article 10(a), "prohibiting [postal] transmission of judicial documents directly to persons abroad," "direct mail is not an 'internationally agreed means' permitted by Rule 4(f) and the Convention, [and] the Trustee's attempted service of process was insufficient." 418 B.R. 75, 82-83 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009); see also Ramsaran v. Abraham, No. 15-CV-10182 (JPO), 2017 WL 1194482, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 30, 2017) (dismissing claims against Indian entity that had been served by mail because service in disregard of India's Article 10(a) reservation was "defective"); Advanced Aerofoil Techs., AG v. Todaro, No. 11 Civ. 9505 (ALC)(DCF), 2012 WL 299959, at *2-3 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 31, 2012) (denying motion for alternative service under Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)(3) on this basis as to Swiss and German defendants).⁷⁰

Switzerland, South Korea, Kuwait and Monaco’s express objections to postal service under Article 10(a) reflect an important attribute of their public policies—that the service of judicial documents on their territory is part and parcel of state sovereignty. See, e.g., Jeandin Decl. ¶¶ 10, 14. To that end, any attempt by a foreign private party or its attorney to serve judicial documents by mail on a defendant in Switzerland is punishable under the Swiss Criminal Code, subject to imprisonment and a fine up to the equivalent of over $550,000. See id. ¶¶ 8, 19.b.

Under Water Splash, the clear objections to postal service by Switzerland, South Korea, Kuwait, and Monaco are fatal to the Liquidators’ attempted service on Hague Defendants in those nations.⁷¹ The Liquidators have long been aware of the inefficacy of postal service in the face of an Article 10(a) objection. Even before the Liquidators commenced mailing summonses in these actions, Judge Lifland’s 2009 ruling in Cohmad put them on notice that “attempted service of process” by mail in Switzerland (and necessarily in all objecting countries) “was insufficient.” 418 B.R. at 83.⁷² In these Actions, Defendants expressly pointed out the ineffectiveness of such postal service in 2012 and 2017, in each case accompanied by a (explaining that because of Switzerland’s objection, “the only way to serve [Swiss] parties is through” the Swiss central authority).

⁷² Judge Lifland declined to dismiss the Trustee’s complaint, which had been filed barely four months before the Court’s decision, in order to give the Trustee “a reasonable time” to effect service via the Hague Service Convention—which the Trustee had already commenced doing while the motion to dismiss was being briefed. Cohmad, 418 B.R. at 84. By contrast, the Liquidators have never even tried to effect service properly as to any Hague Defendant, although they commenced filing these actions as early as 2010.

declaration of an expert in Swiss civil procedure.⁷³ Yet the Liquidators have persisted in attempting service by mail.

C. The Liquidators' Attempts to Serve Hague Defendants by Mail Were Not Authorized by Otherwise Applicable Domestic Law and Are Therefore Ineffective

Even if the Liquidators could satisfy the first Water Splash requirement for service by mail as to any Hague Defendant (i.e., including Hague Defendants purportedly served in states without Article 10(a) objections to postal service), they still could not meet their burden of satisfying the second Water Splash requirement⁷⁴—that service by international mail is “authorized under otherwise-applicable law.” 137 S. Ct. at 1513 (citing with approval Brockmeyer v. May, 383 F.3d 798, 803-04 (9th Cir. 2004)). “For service by international mail to be effective in federal court, it must also be affirmatively authorized by some provision in federal law,” as determined by “the law of the forum in which the suit is filed.” Brockmeyer, 383 F.3d at 800, 804. The Liquidators cannot meet their burden to show that Rule 4(f) authorizes international mail service.

Rule 4(f)(1) allows for service by “any internationally agreed means of service . . . such as those authorized by the Hague Convention.” But Water Splash expressly confirms that the Hague Convention does not “affirmatively authorize[]” service by mail; rather, it merely permits such service if other conditions are met. 137 S. Ct. at 1513; see also In re Coudert Bros. LLP, ⁷³ E.g., Defs.’ Obj. Pls.’ Mot. at 25-26 (Dkt. 640); Keeley Decl. Ex. 9 (Dkt. 645-1); First Motion to Dismiss at 70-75; Decl. of Prof. Nicolas Jeandin, dated January 11, 2017 (Dkt. 991).

⁷⁴ The Water Splash action itself was ultimately dismissed for failure to comply with the second requirement. On remand from the U.S. Supreme Court, the Texas appellate court held that service was ineffective because it was not “authorized under otherwise-applicable law,” as the person purportedly making service—an employee of plaintiff’s counsel—was not authorized to do so under state law. Menon v. Water Splash, Inc., No. 14-14-00012-CV, 2018 WL 344040, at *5 (Tex. App. 14th Dist. Jan. 9, 2018).

No. 16-CV-8237 (KMK), 2017 WL 1944162, at *8 (S.D.N.Y. May 10, 2017) (holding that service by mail via the Hague Convention is not an “internationally agreed means of service”).

Rule 4(f)(2) authorizes service by mail absent a court order only in two circumstances: (i) when service is made “as prescribed by the foreign country’s law for service in that country,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)(2)(A); or (ii) when service is sent by the clerk of court, Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)(2)(C)(ii). The Liquidators cannot rely on either relevant subsection of the rule. Rule 4(f)(2)(A) is unavailing to the Liquidators because they have never even argued that service by international registered mail is “prescribed by” the law of any relevant jurisdiction. See Zanghi v. Ritella, No. 19 Civ. 5830 (NRB), 2020 WL 589409, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 5, 2020) (finding improper service by mail where plaintiffs failed to establish that such service complied with Italian law). As to Rule 4(f)(2)(C), the Liquidators have never attempted to serve through the clerk of court, as that provision requires. Instead, an employee of their counsel’s law firm mailed process by “enclosing [summonses and complaints] in a postage pre-paid envelope to be delivered via International Registered Mail.”⁷⁵ That plainly fails to satisfy Rule 4(f)(2)(C)(ii). See Coudert, 2017 WL 1944162, at *12-13 (holding service improper where plaintiff failed to comply with Rule 4(f)(2)). In sum, Rule 4(f) does not authorize international mail service upon Hague Defendants, and such purported service is ineffective.⁷⁶

D. The Actions Should Be Dismissed for Failure to Effect Service

Despite being alerted over ten years ago to their failure to properly serve Hague Defendants in the face of foreign states’ objections to postal service, see supra note 72 and accompanying text, the Liquidators never attempted to effect service properly on the Hague

⁷⁵ PBRs Service Aff., supra note 65.

⁷⁶ Rules 4(f)(2)(B) and 4(f)(3) are also inapplicable. The Liquidators do not purport to have served Defendants through the use of letters of request, Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)(2)(B), nor have they moved this court to order alternative service not prohibited by international agreement under Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(f)(3).

Defendants. This prolonged failure is inexcusable and warrants dismissal. See Cassano v. Altshuler, 186 F. Supp. 3d 318, 323 (S.D.N.Y. 2016) (dismissing pro se plaintiffs' claims under Rule 12(b)(5) because they were "on notice for a substantial period of time that their method of service could be defective").

In addition to lacking any justification for attempting to serve Hague Defendants by mail in the face of foreign states' express objections, the Liquidators have no excuse for failing to properly serve even Hague Defendants located in countries that have not objected to postal service. The Liquidators have long been on notice that neither Rule 4 nor any other domestic law or rule authorizes their counsel to directly mail process to any Hague Defendant.⁷⁷

Accordingly, the Liquidators lack any good cause for failing to effect service in these nearly decade-old cases, and their claims against all Hague Defendants should be dismissed.⁷⁸ See, e.g., Dickerson, 604 F.3d at 753 (affirming dismissal where "the plaintiffs made neither a reasonable effort to effect service nor filed a motion for an extension of time to do so"); Zherka, 52 F. Supp. 3d at 577-78 (dismissing for lack of personal jurisdiction for failure to serve 277 days after filing, where plaintiff neither requested additional time, "much less argued . . . good cause"); Nat'l Union Fire Ins. Co. of Pittsburgh v. Sun, No. 93 CIV. 7170 (LAP), 1994 WL 463009, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 25, 1994) (noting that affording leniency "to litigants who have failed to make even the most basic efforts would turn Rule 4(m) into a toothless tiger.").

⁷⁷ For example, Brockmeyer was decided in 2004. Rule 4(f) has not been amended since its adoption in 1993.

⁷⁸ If the Liquidators once considered themselves free to serve by mail, without authorization in statute or rule, on a "consent" theory premised on Subscription Agreements that some (but not all) Hague Defendants signed, reliance on that mistaken belief was assuredly unreasonable after the Jurisdiction Opinion. See supra note 64. Yet at no time in the 19 months since then have they even attempted to properly serve any Hague Defendant.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Defendants respectfully request that this Court dismiss the Amended Complaints and grant such other relief that the Court deems just and proper.
